Providing programs, services and support to families and individuals in South King County

Lutheran Community Services Northwest partners with individuals, families, and communities for health, justice, and hope.

WHO WE ARE

The Angle Lake Family Resource Center (FRC) is located in SeaTac, WA and primarily serves low income residents of South King County.

The FRC is a place where individuals, children, and families learn and grow, share support and information, connect and build friendships, access formal and informal resources, and together create a sense of community.

Most importantly, the FRC is an organic program that thrives on community input, fostering ownership and planning from the individuals it serves.

WHO WE SERVE

Each year the Angle Lake Family Resource Center (FRC) serves over 4,000 individuals in south King County through its dynamic programs and community partnerships. While the FRC serves everyone, it has a special focus on serving those who are marginalized by language, culture, or past trauma.

The FRC helps ensure that all children, families and adults get the tools they need to succeed.

WHAT WE DO

- Provide Family Stability:
Offering support programs that foster the well-being of children and families
- Create Community Connections:
Building cohesive relationships between community organizations and families through partnership
- Offer Resources and Referral:
Allowing individuals access to information and community provided opportunities and programs
- Empower and Educate:
Strengthening each individual's ability to succeed and thrive on their own terms
