THERAPY

2 MILLION AMERICANS ARE ASSAULTED EACH YEAR...

BY SOMEONE THEY LOVE.

WHAT IS IT?

Evidence-based programming that can help perpetrators:

- Be accountable for their actions
- Understand why they have acted violently
- Confront tendencies in current situations

Domestic Violence Moral Reconation Therapy is a trademarked curriculum used by many states in conjunction with batterer treatment programming

WHO IS THIS FOR?

This course and its materials are tailored specifically for batterers, or the perpetrators of domestic violence.

WHY SEND CLIENTS?

Group treatment often has better outcomes over individual treatment as group environments allow clients the ability to focus on and discuss shared problems.

WHAT TO EXPECT?

- A weekly commitment for minimum of 6 months
- Cost: $100
- 24 modules completed in a group session environment
- Homework and group participation required to advance to next module
- All sessions are open-ended, meaning new clients can enter the course at any time
