Message From The City Manager

I am always inspired during this time of year because it is graduation month. During this season, so many of our young adults are moving forward with the next chapters in their lives.

I have personally witnessed the Highline School District's remarkable dedication to our children. As a City, I believe we should follow their lead and demonstrate the same level of commitment to our young residents. While the school district's role is to prepare our children for the future, I believe we, as a City, have the important duty to take the necessary steps to create a safe environment for our youth, and enhance the City's infrastructure to support these young residents well into the future.

In order to do that, we, as a City, plan and execute projects that will leave young adults with a vibrant community that is capable of sustaining and growing them even further. I, and other City staff, observed and participated in a number of activities designed to prepare our youth for the future. Over the past few years, SeaTac City staff has engaged in student Mock Trials and job interview preparation. In addition, the City staff incorporated Tyee High School DECA students into the Comprehensive Plan review process. Through these interactions, your City staff demonstrated public service to our youth and exposed our graduates to public sector jobs and careers that may not have been on their radar.

I remember my high school graduation and what my plans were at the time. I can assure you, I had no idea I would be your City Manager 30-plus years after graduation. While being City Manager wasn't on my radar three decades ago, I couldn't be happier with the outcome.

It is important to remember that life is a journey and sometimes even the best laid plans upon graduation are rarely achieved. Occasionally, our current realities cause us to lose sight of some important facts. The truth is, the future can always be brighter and the secret to success is to never give up. I like to paraphrase a saying by Thomas Jefferson in which he pointed out that regardless of the magnitude of any failure, your best chance of success is always to do a little bit better today than you did yesterday.

Congratulations to every student who met their goals and experienced success. And for those of you that haven't reached all your goals, do not be too hard on yourself, just try to be a little bit better today than you were yesterday. This mindset will increase your chances of achieving your dreams.

City in Excellent Financial Condition

Being a SeaTac City Councilmember at this time in the City's history is a wonderful thing. In 2015, the City was in financial trouble. The end of the year budget projections included a $33 million total budget with $4.7 million more expenses than revenue which would have put the City into a deficit.

Today, SeaTac is in a far different financial position. The City has a robust and growing budget of $78 million across all funds, no projected deficit, and more than four months of contingency budget in the bank. In addition, with this new budget, the City was able to add seven new police officers. Also, the City has multiple public works projects starting this year with plans for two sidewalk projects next year, which is twice the City's normal schedule. Also the City has created a fiscal policy to prohibit increasing property taxes when the contingency account is fully funded. The City has not increased City property taxes in four years. You should know the budget is balanced and is sustainable until at least 2022.

Since 2016, the City has reviewed all contracts and has put all renewals out for public bid, guaranteeing the taxpayer that the best deal is made to make your taxes do more! The City has changed the way it does business with developers and builders, making the City more "business-friendly" and the result has been a spurt of construction projects, which you might have noticed.

We are proactively addressing community issues, such as the parking issue happening on 34th Avenue S. That community was plagued by people going to, or working at, the airport and parking for extended time in that area. Currently, we are implementing a Parking Permit Program to limit parking in that community while protecting residents' rights. We have also implemented a new Traffic Enforcement Team with two police officers on motorcycles who will be patrolling SeaTac's roads to keep them safer.

Much of these changes are happening because so many residents have taken the time to help the City by communicating issues that impact their lives. There are many ways for residents to participate in communicating with the City. Every City Councilmember has a phone contact and email address listed on the City website to make it easier for you to directly contact us, or email the council body at CityCouncil@seatacwa.gov. The City directory on the website lists the department heads if you would like to reach them. If you spot something you wish to report to the City for action, you can use our phone app, "See-Click-Fix" (and you can make reports anonymously).

Consider coming to a council meeting to share your thoughts with the entire council, during the public comment section. Or attend a council meeting to learn about ongoing actions and discussions that might affect you! This is your City and we appreciate the time a resident takes to contact us!

In closing, I thank all the residents who have taken the time to reach out to the council on matters which impact your life. It truly helps the council if we know what you think!

RASKC Licensing Your Pet: Kai's Story

LOSING A DOG CAN BE A SCARY EXPERIENCE, BOTH FOR THE PET AS well as for the owner. Kai, a male, part heeler and part shepherd, suffers from anxiety after being abandoned during the catastrophic floods in Houston caused by Hurricane Harvey. SeaTac resident Cesceani Langaman adopted Kai after he was brought to Washington. The family, recognizing Kai's anxiety, spent a full day with a behaviorist, which included check-ins via video conference.

"You put in a lot of time and energy when you have a dog and to lose him...it's crazy," said Langaman.

"I WAS IN TEARS...LOSING HIM...IT'S LIKE MY CHILD"

Cesceani refers to an evening at the end of October 2018 when the family went out to the symphony. Their neighbor had kindly offered to come over and walk Kai, when he suddenly broke out of his leash and ran off.

"It happened around 7:30 PM, but we didn't get the message until around 8:30 PM because that was when there was intermission," said Langaman. "As soon as we heard, we all jumped in the car and went looking for him."

The family spent all night looking for him, driving around, using dog whistles and even setting laundry on the front door step hoping the smell would help guide him back home.

"I was in tears" admits Langaman, "losing him... it's like my child... he's my baby. We were just heartbroken...".

Luckily, just a few blocks from where Langaman lives, a neighbor came across Kai and brought him to the Regional Animal Services of King County (RASKC), the municipal animal shelter located in Kent. The next day Cesceani visited the RASKC webpage to report Kai being lost. A RASKC staff member received the post and called Cesceani within an hour after making the match.

"I arrived to the shelter and everyone was really nice. Kai was calm and cool and just so happy to be with them," said Langaman. "Then of course they said 'Mom's here!' and he just went crazy."

When asked about licensing Lanagaman responded with, "... I just beat myself that I didn't license him beforehand. Because you never think that it's going to be your dog. Now that I know, you can't imagine it'll happen to you. Now that he has one, it's never coming off."

The 5 Benefits that come with a pet license

1. Found pets are reunited quickly with their owner. The Pet License office number is on the license. If someone finds your pet, they will call the number, get your contact information, even after hours, and reunite you and your pet.
2. Your pet gets a free ride home the first time it is found. Our staff will attempt to deliver your pet home to you immediately, skipping a trip to the animal shelter.
3. Your pet gets a longer care period. When found, your licensed pet will be safely cared for at the Pet Adoption Center for a longer time.
4. You and your pet get the Vacation Pet Alert. When you leave home on vacation, call 206.296.2712 to register where your pet will be while you are on vacation, who will be taking care of your pet and where to reach you. We will call the correct number if your pet gets loose during your vacation.
5. License fees support the return of hundreds of lost pets to their homes and help adopt thousands of homeless pets to new families every year. Pet license fees also fund investigation of animal neglect and cruelty, spay/neuter programs to reduce pet over-population, and community education services.

Veterans Memorial Community Meeting

Wednesday, July 17
6–7:30 PM
SeaTac Community Center

Please join us for an informative community meeting regarding the City's first veterans memorial. This memorial will pay tribute to men and women military veterans of the past and present for their service. It will incorporate engraved bricks as a lasting way to remember our loved ones who have passed away, been killed in the line of duty, or who currently serve our country.

John Barker, Landscape Architect from Forrest Gardens, LLC, will provide conceptual design concepts to share with the community. The project will be completed by Veterans Day on November 11, 2019 for a ribbon cutting ceremony. In addition, we will share information about and examples of the engraved bricks that will be available for community members to purchase to honor their loved ones. For more information, please contact Lawrence Ellis, Parks, Community Programs & Services Director, at 206.973.4681.

Please Do Not Feed the Waterfowl

PROTECTING WILDLIFE AND COMMUNITY HEALTH & SAFETY

Waterfowl Poo is "Fowl"!

Large wildfowl populations leave a lot of droppings behind. A single Canada Goose can create as much as two to three pounds of waste per day. Between their heavy grazing of grass and ornamental plants, and their significant amounts of waste generation, a large flock of geese can make a backyard or park a very unpleasant place for people to spend time. These droppings are not only unsightly, they can also make people sick by adding bacteria, like E. coli, to our lakes and streams. Waterfowl feces can contribute to water quality problems such as summer algae blooms, and bacteria can accumulate to levels that make contact with the water unsafe.

Feeding of Wild Waterfowl Can Lead to:

DELAYED MIGRATION - Canada geese will completely change their migratory habits and take up permanent residence when conditioned by routine feeding.

MALNUTRITION - A normal diet for ducks and geese would consist of grass, seeds, and aquatic plants. Human foods lack the nutrients provided by these food sources. So when you feed bread, popcorn, and other foods to young waterfowl, it can literally result in bone deformities that can cripple them and keep them from ever being able to fly.

PUBLIC SAFETY CONCERNS - Feeding is not only potentially harmful to wildlife; it can also lead to significant health and safety risks for humans and domesticated pets as well. As wildlife becomes conditioned by human feedings, many species will actually alter their natural behaviors, resulting in adverse consequences. Interactions with humans during feeding can also lead to a loss of natural instincts to retreat from people. In fact, wildlife can actually exhibit more aggressive and territorial tendencies when conditioned to view people as a source for food.

IMPACTS ON PARK MAINTENANCE - Flocks of geese and the droppings they leave behind make surfaces very slippery and dangerous for park visitors. Extra time must be taken to clean up walkways to keep them safe. Sandy beach areas are especially difficult to clean. Once the sand is contaminated with feces, recreational enjoyment is severely impacted. The grassy lawn areas provide a food source for the geese. A flock feeding on the grass can leave large bare areas of dirt. These areas must be seeded with grass continually or weeds will germinate and grow. Large patches of weeds in lawn areas are unsightly and increase the frequency of herbicide applications to control the weeds.

Feeding of waterfowl is not beneficial – it has negative ecological, environmental, and social consequences. Please do not feed the waterfowl.

HIGHLINE'S HISTORY GETS A NEW HOME

Highline Heritage Museum Opens

Soon, Southwest King County will be home to a new cultural institution—the Highline Heritage Museum. From exhibits to public programming, the new museum will connect the Highline community to the rich history of the Highline area encompassing the same jurisdictions served by the Highline School District.

“We are creating a bridge from Highline’s earliest history to the newest immigrant stories,” says Highline Heritage Museum Executive Director Nancy Salguero McKay. “We are creating a place where visitors can connect with these stories and with each other. We envision ourselves sitting at a round table where no one is the leader and stories are heard respectfully regardless of gender, age, sexual orientation, disabilities, or ethnicity. History is a personal matter to everyone.”

The exhibits will help visitors connect history to their own life experiences as well as encourage people to contribute their own stories. The Museum has collected 300 oral histories of Highline residents, including the stories of several “Lost Boys of Sudan” who were adopted by families in SW King County. The new museum will include “heritage trees,” an interactive exhibit that invites people to share their own personal heritage. The Museum will also house a Denso exhibit, where people of Japanese descent can contribute their own family’s history to a large database of Japanese history.

The Pacific Northwest Railroad Archive, located on S.W. 153rd Street, is contributing materials about the Toonerville Trolley, a small passenger train that ran up and down on what is today Ambaum Boulevard from Burien to White Center to Seattle. A rotating exhibit featuring Highline School District collections will be on display, as well as a 65-foot long timeline of the Highline School District from 1870 to the present. And a World War I memorabilia exhibit will tell the story of the Des Moines Memorial Drive living highway and World War I memorial.

When asked what makes Highline’s history unique, Cyndi Upthegrove, former Board of Trustees president and Burien Citizen of the Year, says “people had to be self-sufficient in Highline’s early days. We have heard many stories of resilience from those who were alive during the Great Depression.”

Visitors to the Museum will be greeted by a City of SeaTac sponsored lifesize replica of the megalonyx jeffersonii (Giant Sloth) discovered during the construction of Sea-Tac Airport. Visitors will be given maps to where it was discovered.

But the Museum will house much more than physical artifacts. The Museum will open in the mornings for school groups and activities for children. The Museum will also offer genealogy classes, a children’s story hour, and more! The space will also be available to rent for special functions.

The Highline Heritage Museum opened June 14, 2019 and is located at 819 SW 152nd Street, Burien, WA 98166.

To learn more about the museum or see the hours of operation go to this link <https://highlinehistory.org>.

Planning a Car Wash Fundraiser?

By checking out a FREE fish-friendly car wash kit from the City, fundraising groups can help keep harmful soaps and toxic metals from running into the Puget Sound. Or consider a professional car wash organization (e.g. Puget Sound Car Wash Association or Brown Bear Car Wash) charity ticket program for your fundraising event.

Contact Water Quality Technician Tom George at 206.973.4753 tgeorge@seatacwa.gov for more information or to reserve a FREE car wash kit. For more information regarding the problems facing the Puget Sound, along with workable solutions that we can adopt into our everyday actions to reduce pollution of the waters, visit www.pugetsoundstartshere.org.

Spring Recycling Event a Success!!

The City hosted the Spring 2019 Recycling Event on April 6, 2019 and despite the rain had a 61% increase in participation from the previous event. Residents were excited to bring newly accepted items, Compact Fluorescent Light Bulbs (CFL's) and latex paint as well as all the other normal items: shredding, batteries, tires, scrap metal, electronics, used motor oil, and porcelain to the event. Be sure to watch your mail for the Fall Recycling Event announcement.

Curb Marker Program Volunteer Opportunities Available

It is a very common misconception that stormwater is treated before it reaches streams and lakes. Installing stormwater curb markers reminds people that storm drains are for rainwater only. Curb markers are easy to install and are available to volunteer groups from May 1–October 31. For more information, contact Mason Giem at 206.973.4763.

Recycling Update

The recycling world is changing. China continues to not accept recycling and the impact is being felt right here in SeaTac. Other countries that accept American recycling materials are reducing their levels of acceptable contamination. This forces recycling sorting facilities, like ours at Recology CleanScapes, to do a better job at reducing contamination in the recycling stream. Recology is investing in new sorting equipment and slowing down their sorting line. You can help by making sure only empty, clean and dry recyclable items are put into the recycling containers. To learn more visit: <https://www.recology.com/recology-cleanscapes/seatac>

LITTER CLEAN UP KITS AVAILABLE

Take pride in the cleanliness of your neighborhood and organize a litter pick-up event. The City offers garbage pickers, gloves, safety vests, and garbage bags for any person or group willing to help pick up litter in SeaTac. Contact program manager Mason Giem at 206.973.4763 to learn more.

GRASS AND TRASH

With summer arriving, now is the time to enjoy the great outdoors. To nobody's surprise, we are not the only ones that love to embrace the sun. Others that love to thrive in the heat are our grasses, trees, flowers, and even those pesky weeds that we work so hard to get rid of. It's important to continue to maintain and control the vegetation on our properties, so remember to keep your grass cut and the weeds down in order to comply with the 12-inch maximum height allowed by our municipal code.

The summertime also welcomes fun and festivities, and with festivities comes an abundant amount of trash. During the summer season, the City receives an increase in complaints about garbage and rodents. As good neighbors, let's work to keep the rubbish away and the rodents at bay, all while maintaining our vegetation and disposing of our refuse. Please help us to control the waste that you produce by keeping it in cans with tight-fitting lids, and dump your garbage more frequently if you self-haul your waste.

Teen Police Academy

The Police Academy is a one-week course for teens to learn about law enforcement. The course provides community members, aged 14-18 who attend school in the Highline School District, a better understanding of the criminal justice system, increased knowledge about the challenges facing law enforcement today, and the awareness of resources utilized by officers in the area. It also provides teens an understanding of how to assist officers and increase safety in their neighborhoods. The course is also a good introduction for those interested in pursuing a career in law enforcement. Topics covered include: K-9 search and rescue, air support, marine operations, crisis negotiations, defensive and de-escalation tactics, and many more. The academy will be held the week of August 5-9, 2019 and applications are being accepted now. If you wish to apply for this session, please download an application www.seatacwa.gov/TeenPoliceAcademy or pick up an application at the SeaTac or Burien Police Departments.

NEW MOTORCYCLES FOR SEATAC POLICE

Congratulations to Deputy Kevin Shoblom and Deputy Matt Chapman, Washington State's two newest motorcycle or Motor Officers. The two officers proudly represented the City of SeaTac/King County Sheriff's Office and earned Motor Wings in a very demanding Certification Course. The bikes, and the officers on them, were paid for through the Interlocal Agreement with the Port of Seattle. These Motor Officers are actively addressing traffic problem areas within the City.

GRAFFITI SHOWING UP AROUND TOWN

Graffiti is unauthorized writing or artwork made on fences or walls in places viewed by the public. Some may be related to gangs who mark their "territory" and can cause neighborhoods to be perceived as undesirable. It is becoming an increasingly common reported code violation within the City.

Graffiti is a form of vandalism, defacing public and private properties. Please call 9-1-1 if you see graffiti or "tagging" in progress.

As a reminder, per City Code, the affected property owner is responsible for removing or painting over graffiti on their property. If you have become a victim of graffiti, please do your best to remove it immediately. Community Service Officers (CSO) offer graffiti removal kits, which work great for cleaning small smooth surfaces (such as a mailbox). You can contact a CSO at 206.973.4900. Larger affected areas (like a fence) will require a more significant effort. If your neighbor has become a victim of graffiti, consider helping them out with both paint and your labor.

SWIM SAFE IN SEATAC

Some of the best parts of living in, or visiting, the Northwest are the easily accessible lakes and rivers, and the recreation they provide. Unfortunately those same bodies of water can pose a hazard to the unwary.

Each year across the nation, more than 3,000 people die from drowning. In King County, an average of 31 people drown every year. In addition, drowning is the leading cause of unintentional injury death for children ages one to 17. One in five people who die from drowning are children 14-years-old or younger, and for every death, five children are seen in emergency rooms.

The City has several lakes and numerous hotel pools that can pose a potential hazard to the unwary. Help your firefighters keep our residents and visitors safe by observing some basic water safety rules:

GENERAL WATER SAFETY

- ◆ Supervise children at ALL TIMES.
- ◆ Take swimming lessons and never exceed your abilities.
- ◆ Go to bodies of water that you are familiar with.
- ◆ Always wear a well-fitting Coast Guard approved life jacket when near or in water.
- ◆ Remember that boating/swimming and alcohol are a dangerous combination.
- ◆ Always swim with a buddy.
- ◆ Notify others of your plans to be on the water and a return time.
- ◆ Take a cell phone with you.

LAKES

- ◆ Obey boating laws and rules for the particular lake you are on.
- ◆ Watch for swimmers, those fishing, and other boats/watercraft.
- ◆ Know ahead of time about any underwater obstructions such as tree roots or branches.
- ◆ Swim at lakes that have life guards.

POOLS

- ◆ Swim at pools with life guards.
- ◆ Supervise children at all times.
- ◆ Floating or inflatable toys are not a safe substitute for a life jacket.

Permit Parking

The Permit Parking Program has officially begun. On May 1, 2019, the City started enforcing new three-hour parking standards in the McMicken Heights neighborhood. Look for the new signs to be sure you are not parking in the zone without a permit for longer than three hours. Only residents or business owners in the zone are allowed to get a permit. To learn more about the program, visit: www.seatacwa.gov/PermitParkingProgram

LOCKING MAILBOX PROGRAM

The Locking Mailbox Program continues to be a success with more than 181 mailboxes sold. In a recent survey, more than 80% of respondents said they would recommend the program to others.

The Locking Mailbox Program helps combat mail theft and is available to any owners of single-family residences, including duplexes. It is also available to business property owners that have individual mailboxes. Tenants may also participate with written permission from their landlord. Go to www.seatacwa.gov/MailboxProgram to learn more or call program manager Mason Giem at 206.973.4763 for more information.
