We have found ourselves in an unprecedented time. While the situation with COVID-19 continues to unfold each and every day, ACRS continues to strive to find ways to best serve our clients in our community in the safest possibly manner. All staff have been working from home since the beginning of March and the facilities have been closed except for essential operations and services.

Challenges:

- Working remotely is something new to many staff and to our clients. Because the nature of our work is largely done in person this was a change everyone needed to figure out how to do and get used to.
- Are service hours for Kirkland and SeaTac are a little lower than our projected goal. As we are all getting used to the new way of working, we have been seeing less service hours. Staff are trying their best to get their clients the services they need in this new normal but there have been many difficultiessome staff who are parents might not be able to offer as many services as before and some staff are having a hard time getting in touch with clients. The biggest factor in lower service ours is due to our facilities being closed, we have not been able to run our regular groups where many of our clients in those cities attend on a regular basis.
- Our new electronic health record (EHR) system went live in early March. Many things had to change due to the new normal the pandemic has set upon us. The first week of go live we had expected staff from the EHR system to come to ACRS to help with our go live. But due to the pandemic all troubleshooting and help had to be done remotely. On top of needing to most everything online

Success:

Despite the difficulties we saw at the beginning with working from home, staff were not discouraged and very eager to learn new ways of working. The agency has held remote trainings for staff on how to work remotely. There has been also many trainings and troubleshooting that have been done remotely for our new EHR system. Despite the difficulties staff are eager to learn how to use this new system as well as how to work in this new environment that has come upon us. We are seeing more and more staff becoming more comfortable with the new EHR system and needing less assistance from their supervisors and other peers. There is still a continued learning curve as we continue to figure out this new normal but we are still ensuring the best quality of care to our clients and making sure that their safety, staff safety, and everyone's safety is top priority.

IR – The Child Care Aware of Washington Family Call Center has been rapidly adjusting practice and capacity to meet the changing needs of our callers since the COVID 19 pandemic hit our community. In the last four weeks, we replaced our call center technology to be able to have more resource specialists answering calls remotely. We have cross-trained several staff members from other teams to be able to get on the phone lines when call volumes rise. We are updating child care provider closures and vacancy data daily and hold frequent briefings with our resource specialists to be sure they are aware of the new information and resources emerging daily. The Call Center has also partnered with the University of Washington Medical Centers and King County to help provide enhanced referrals for essential employees, especially medical and healthcare workers.

Some general themes that we have been seeing among callers in response to the COVID 19 crisis:

•Essential workers looking for a new childcare program because the program their children were at closed due to COVID19 (either temporarily for cleaning, temporarily during the pandemic due to lack of enrollment, or because the provider had health concerns).

IR – The Child Care Aware of Washington Family Call Center has been rapidly adjusting practice and capacity to meet the changing needs of our callers since the COVID 19 pandemic hit our community. In the last four weeks, we replaced our call center technology to be able to have more resource specialists answering calls remotely. We have cross-trained several staff members from other teams to be able to get on the phone lines when call volumes rise. We are updating child care provider closures and vacancy data daily and hold frequent briefings with our resource specialists to be sure they are aware of the new information and resources emerging daily. The Call Center has also partnered with the University of Washington Medical Centers and King County to help provide enhanced referrals for essential employees, especially medical and healthcare workers.

Some general themes that we have been seeing among callers in response to the COVID 19 crisis:

- Essential workers looking for a new childcare program because the program their children were at closed due to COVID19 (either temporarily for cleaning, temporarily during the pandemic due to lack of enrollment, or because the provider had health concerns).
- Essential workers calling to find free childcare they heard about through their employer or from a flyer they received.
- Essential workers who previously used Family Friend or Neighbor type care, but now don't feel comfortable leaving their children with grandma/grandpa/aunts/uncles/etc. due to potential exposure risks to older relatives.
- Essential workers SPECIFICALLY asking for Family Child Care providers because they are worried a larger center or space with large capacity exposes their children to more risk, or that due to their own exposure at work, they don't want their children around a lot of other kids.
- Families experiencing homelessness calling to find childcare for their school-age children as many shelters are not equipped to have children there during the day.

TA - One of the biggest challenges we have been facing when trying to meet our deliverables is the Coronavirus pandemic. We have been trying to reach out to providers to offer any support we can. We have been making calls to update their openings for children and to see if they are in need of supplies. Some of the providers are answering the phone but a lot of them are not. We are keeping a list of supplies needed by providers and working diligently to get what they need. With this being just the first quarter we are hoping that things will pick up if and when the Coronavirus dies down or hopefully goes away. We will continue to reach out to providers with phone calls and emails unfortunately we are not allowed to visit them with the "Stay at Home" order. Providers we have made contact with have positive attitudes about the coronavirus. Unfortunately child care workers have not been labeled "Essential Workers". They are in the frontlines accepting children and families during this traumatic time putting their own families at risk. This is truly a success for those still operating their businesses, we have nothing but respect and gratitude for those providers as well as the providers that decided to close.

We are still supporting potential providers through the licensing process with their paperwork.

TR - Challenges for this quarter have included having to cancel trainings due to COVID-19 and not being able to lead in-person trainings. Delivery service of trainings has changed as the state has said STARS approved trainers are not allowed to do in-person trainings until June. (This began in late March). New trainings have been created and as of March 31, we have started to offer online trainings to child care providers.

-Support that would be ideal: information on the various online training platforms and training on these,

Des Moines Area Food Bank 1st Quarter 2020 Narrative

January is always a challenging month at the food bank. Every client is considered "new" on their first visit of the year and they share about their family's situation in order to help us understand who in our community is most at-risk of hunger. Compiling the data from 800 families is a huge endeavor. Typically, almost half of our total "unduplicated" numbers for the year are counted in January. As clients subsequently return, they are considered returning and the burden of collecting data decreases. Normally, February and March are spent catching up with other tasks and beginning to plan for our summer meals program.

This March and April, we have seen an increase of 40% in our overall numbers and believe that, if seniors were not sheltering at home, it would be considerably more. Currently, nearly 50% of clients are new for the year. Many have never received food bank assistance before, while others have not been in for service since 2011-2013. While the number of new clients from January through February increased over the same period last year by 2%, March was up 60% over the same period last year. Some clients—especially seniors—have reported how critical SNAP support has been. The increase in their benefit level and the provision of 6 weeks up front in March allowed them to weather the early days of the shut-down while sheltering at home.

The first quarter of 2020 was unlike any we have seen in the past 20 years. News of the COVID-19 emerged around mid-February. By March 6, it was clear that business could not and should not continue as usual. The church in which the food bank is located closed all services. Government direction was still in development at that point, but the food bank began implementing its own protocols, requiring all clients, staff and volunteers to wash their hands upon entering the building. On March 13, we started distancing chairs but it was difficult to maintain social distancing in line with so many clients. Consequently, on March 16, we moved to allowing only 10 clients in the building at a time. On March 19, we added social distancing lines outside the food bank for those waiting to get it. We also began pre-bagging goods to speed service and shorten time of exposure. Many volunteers and staff began wearing masks, which are now required for everyone. Finally, we added an on-line Order-to-Go service.

Every day in early March, we had to reinvent our service model. Almost our entire volunteer corp—mostly retired seniors—left to shelter at home. Our distribution center moved to an emergency box model of service, which contains only 1-2 days of food, far less than we would normally provide to even one person. While this may have been necessary to meet growing need around the state, we believe this model disenables families from sheltering at home and forces them to take extraordinary measures and go place to place in order to continue putting food on the table. Our goal is to continue to provide several days worth of food for as long as possible in order to enable families to safely stay at home. Luckily, many community volunteers have been spontaneously arriving, so we are able to continue full service.

Another point of vulnerability for families in need has been access to food for their children. In 5 of the 11 elementary schools in our service area, 86% of children qualify for free and reduced meals, and school closures represent a significant loss of food assistance. When Highline Schools closed on March 16, we jumped into high gear and were able to get meal service for kids going within two days. Rather than the normal congregate meal, where children are required to eat their food on-site, the state is allowing grab-andgo service and serving multiple meals at the same time. The food bank is currently serving lunch and breakfast at 7 meal sites, with weekend meals provided at 3. We are also able to serve at the food bank on days we are open, providing 2 days worth of breakfast and lunch on Monday and Wednesday and 3 days on Friday. See below for a detailed schedule of all our meal sites. We are currently waiting to see how the COVID situation will develop and whether or not summer meals will return to its usual format or remain a grab-and-go service.

The Advocacy and DV Education provided by DAWN's CDVRT (Children's Domestic Violence Response Team) and Child/In-Home Program Advocates are essential tools in the prevention of domestic violence, and the ongoing battle to eliminate domestic abuse and stop the cycle of violence for families in our community. The CDVRT and In-Home Program provide counseling, safety planning, essential resources and community referrals, and critical ongoing support and education that can help protect children and survivors of abuse from the harmful physical and emotional effects of living in an atmosphere of fear that can lead to negative outcomes, such as at risk behaviors, injury or even death. COVID-19 has had a large impact due to social distancing, as well as, the ability to meet in groups.

The CDVRT program provides experienced Domestic Violence Advocates that work in collaboration with DV informed Therapists, to provide a compassionate wrap around type service that works together to provide Advocacy and DV informed counseling and support. The CDVRT provides activities such as accompanying the client to Meet and Greets to introduce clients to new advocates and mental health professionals. In addition to general DV advocacy, the CDVRT provides Family Dinners with Kids' Club DV Education curriculums, Family Team Meetings with other professional supports, regular individual and group consultations and DV Education meetings for CDVRT team members and clients, various child and youth groups and activities led by Mental Health provider staff, and ongoing support and training for both Therapists' agency and Domestic Violence agency staff.

The goals of the CDVRT are to:

- 1. Decrease trauma symptoms experienced by children.
- 2. Increase protective and resiliency factors in children and client parent.
- 3. Reduce children's behavioral problems occurring in school, community or family settings.
- 4. Improve social and relationship skills to encourage children to access social supports in the future.
- 5. Provide a safe space for children where their experiences are validated. Provide a safe person to talk to about their fears, worries, anger, hopes and dreams, and goals for the future.

6. Provide resiliency based services designed to help recover from trauma and live safely and free from emotional or physical harm.

The In-Home Program provided by the Child and Parenting Advocate is a 10 lesson curriculum, held over a period of 10 or more weeks, with a celebration of completion at the 11th week visit. The In-Home Program meets with the parent and children in the home, or at an agreed upon safe location in the community. The parent and children participate and learn the information together as a family, in order to help the family heal the relational injuries created by living with an abuser in the home. The program is generally provided after the abuser is no longer in the home or actively monitoring the non-abusive parent and children. Safety discussions are had prior to beginning the lessons in order to provide safest possible services and location for the classes.

The goals of the In-Home programs are to:

- 1. Provide education and support the non-abusive parent as they adjust to the new pattern of life.
- 2. Strengthen and heal the bond between children and parent and to affirm the parent in the children's eyes, even as they deal with the negative the effects of DV.
- 3. Help the children to explore and express the types of relationships they would like to have in the future.
- 4. Help the children get security and love from their mother, and learn how to recognize red flags or tell the difference between abusers and survivors in relationships.

The Lessons are as follows:

- 1. Introduction to the program. Meeting the family and introducing the advocate.
- 2. Domestic violence is not the Children's fault. They do not need the burden of guilt blame or shame.
- 3. The drawing game. Children draw one picture of violence episode experienced and also draw their dream house with as much details as possible. Also, explain what type of relationships they expect to have.
- 4. Feelings game. The children match faces with feelings they express.
- 5. Anger Education. Anger is normal but calming down is important. What are some ways that can help us calm ourselves? What are some ways we can make more thoughtful decisions and resolve conflict in a more positive way?

- 7. Safety planning. How to stay safe in case domestic violence happens again.
- 8. Conflict resolution techniques. Conflict is normal but solving them is crucial.
- 9. Parenting after DV. With the Parent: How to access resources in case they go back to abuser or find themselves in another abusive relationship.
- 10. The Floating week. Question and answer session for the family.
- 11. Conclusion and handing in the certificate of completion. Celebrate!

The PowerUp Group is a Life Skills Educational and Empowerment group for adult female survivors of domestic violence who want to take their power back, build on their strengths and abilities, and expand on innate skills that will help them rediscover their dreams and start taking steps to achieve their goals.

The goals of the group are to:

- 1. Provide DV informed education and help survivors of abuse learn to use tools that will strengthen their ability to have healthy relationships, prevent abuse in the future, and learn and practice empowering skills that can make them less vulnerable to those who seek to abuse them.
- 2. Gather together in a group setting in order to provide support, advice, resources, mentorship, compassion, encouragement, and a wealth of knowledge and experience with others who have been through similar circumstances.
- 3. Study and explore weekly topics such as:
- a. Healthy relationships and Green Flags

Between 2018 and now, since Osnium came up and running, the CDVRT and In-Home program have served about 140 adults and over 200 children. There are generally about 40 families receiving services at any given time.

These child and family programs provide tools families need to develop skills that help develop the protective factors that can lead to improved physical and emotional health, and prevent children and non-abusive parents from repeating the cycle of abuse.

Studies show that 1 in 4-10 people (depending on the study) will experience domestic violence with an intimate partner. Experiencing the trauma of abuse in the home can lead to devastating outcomes for children and non-abusive parents living in abusive environments. The Aces (Adverse Childhood Experiences) study performed by Kaiser Permanente discovered that experiencing or witnessing violence or abuse in the home can undermine a child's sense of stability, and may be linked to outcomes such as medical or mental health illnesses, substance misuse or at risk behaviors, and can also negatively impact future relationships, education and job opportunities.

How can we stop the cycle of violence if we do not provide the services to help the children, and the non-abusive parent trying to protect and care for them learn the skills they need to have healthy, non-violent, peaceful homes and relationships?

People do the best they can with what they know, and make great efforts to form healthy relationships and avoid repeating negative patterns modelled by parents, peers and communities. Unfortunately, small children rely heavily on the lessons learned in the home. And even as they grow into youths and teens, living in a home with domestic violence can be incredibly isolating, leaving children immersed in an atmosphere of manipulation, fear, uncertainty and emotional or physical violence. Their experience is not one of fair and just negotiation in order to peacefully resolve disagreements, but of perfecting skills in manipulation. The skills they learn are about power not equity, of force or acquiescence not collaboration, of chaos not harmony, of identifying with either the perpetrator or victim of violence. They learn through necessity, the skills of surviving not thriving.

Des Moines Area Food Bank 1st Quarter 2020 Narrative

January is always a challenging month at the food bank. Every client is considered "new" on their first visit of the year and they share about their family's situation in order to help us understand who in our community is most at-risk of hunger. Compiling the data from 800 families is a huge endeavor. Typically, almost half of our total "unduplicated" numbers for the year are counted in January. As clients subsequently return, they are considered returning and the burden of collecting data decreases. Normally, February and March are spent catching up with other tasks and beginning to plan for our summer meals program.

This March and April, we have seen an increase of 40% in our overall numbers and believe that, if seniors were not sheltering at home, it would be considerably more. Currently, nearly 50% of clients are new for the year. Many have never received food bank assistance before, while others have not been in for service since 2011-2013. While the number of new clients from January through February increased over the same period last year by 2%, March was up 60% over the same period last year. Some clients—especially seniors—have reported how critical SNAP support has been. The increase in their benefit level and the provision of 6 weeks up front in March allowed them to weather the early days of the shut-down while sheltering at home.

The first quarter of 2020 was unlike any we have seen in the past 20 years. News of the COVID-19 emerged around mid-February. By March 6, it was clear that business could not and should not continue as usual. The church in which the food bank is located closed all services. Government direction was still in development at that point, but the food bank began implementing its own protocols, requiring all clients, staff and volunteers to wash their hands upon entering the building. On March 13, we started distancing chairs but it was difficult to maintain social distancing in line with so many clients. Consequently, on March 16, we moved to allowing only 10 clients in the building at a time. On March 19, we added social distancing lines outside the food bank for those waiting to get it. We also began pre-bagging goods to speed service and shorten time of exposure. Many volunteers and staff began wearing masks, which are now required for everyone. Finally, we added an on-line Order-to-Go service.

Every day in early March, we had to reinvent our service model. Almost our entire volunteer corp—mostly retired seniors—left to shelter at home. Our distribution center moved to an emergency box model of service, which contains only 1-2 days of food, far less than we would normally provide to even one person. While this may have been necessary to meet growing need around the state, we believe this model disenables families from sheltering at home and forces them to take extraordinary measures and go place to place in order to continue putting food on the table. Our goal is to continue to provide several days worth of food for as long as possible in order to enable families to safely stay at home. Luckily, many community volunteers have been spontaneously arriving, so we are able to continue full service.

Another point of vulnerability for families in need has been access to food for their children. In 5 of the 11 elementary schools in our service area, 86% of children qualify for free and reduced meals, and school closures represent a significant loss of food assistance. When Highline Schools closed on March 16, we jumped into high gear and were able to get meal service for kids going within two days. Rather than the normal congregate meal, where children are required to eat their food on-site, the state is allowing grab-andgo service and serving multiple meals at the same time. The food bank is currently serving lunch and breakfast at 7 meal sites, with weekend meals provided at 3. We are also able to serve at the food bank on days we are open, providing 2 days worth of breakfast and lunch on Monday and Wednesday and 3 days on Friday. See below for a detailed schedule of all our meal sites. We are currently waiting to see how the COVID situation will develop and whether or not summer meals will return to its usual format or remain a grab-and-go service.

NARRATIVE

Q1 2020 has been extremely challenging for HealthPoint. During the last week of January, the organization's email and computer systems were hit with the same malware attack that, in the past two years, has struck major news organizations, municipalities, and large hospital systems. While the malware attack did not affect our confidential electronic health records (stored on a separate system and operated by a third-party organization), it crippled our ability to communicate. Access to needed software was locked down to contain the malware. Ability to access interfaces to link with reporting data was restored in early April. Through this deliberate approach, HealthPoint was able to stand its ground and not have to pay a ransom. Unfortunately, as our systems were coming back online and as access was being restored, COVID-19 began ascending. Soon after the first case was announced in Snohomish County in January, HealthPoint began preparing its staff, supplies, and procedures to respond to the impending crisis. Since then, HealthPoint has felt this truly global pandemic among our patients, staff and across all of our operations right here in King County. The CDC has recommended canceling dental visits except in cases of emergency (https://go.usa.gov/xvKTy). Thus, oral health visits are down nationwide and locally as the COVID-19 crisis keeps people away from seeking care they would otherwise have sought. Though our Q1 service units meet contract targets, visits are down when contrasted with Q1 2019. Across the share1app cities overall, Q1 2020 visits were 70% of visit levels in Q1 2019. Q1 2020 visits from residents in specific cities were as high as 89% and 88% of Q1 2019 levels for Tukwila and Bellevue, but as low as about 50% of Q1 2019 levels for Burien, Kenmore, and Des Moines. Whether this trend will continue into Q2 and beyond remains to be seen.

To address the need to provide urgent and emergency care while heeding the requirements for social distancing, HealthPoint rapidly deployed telephone visits, followed by telehealth/video visits. In accordance with guidance from the American Dental Association and the CDC, Healthpoint in March began providing only urgent/emergent in-person care and virtual care at our dental clinics in Bothell, Midway, Tukwila, Kent, and Auburn. The Federal Way and Redmond clinics are providing virtual dental services only. This includes telephone visits but will soon incoporate teledentistry. At these two latter sites, referrals are made to the closest site for care if absolutely necessary. Redmond patients are referred to Bothell, while Federal Way patients are referred to the closest sites among Midway, Kent, Auburn, or Tukwila.

Q1 2020 has been extremely challenging for HealthPoint. During the last week of January, the organization's email and computer systems were hit with the same malware attack that, in the past two years, has struck major news organizations, municipalities, and large hospital systems. While the malware attack did not affect our confidential electronic health records (stored on a separate system and operated by a third-party organization), it crippled our ability to communicate. Access to needed software was locked down to contain the malware. Ability to access interfaces to link with reporting data was restored in early April. Through this deliberate approach, HealthPoint was able to stand its ground and not have to pay a ransom. Unfortunately, as our systems were coming back online and as access was being restored, COVID-19 began ascending. Soon after the first case was announced in Snohomish County in January, HealthPoint began preparing its staff, supplies, and procedures to respond to the impending crisis. Since then, HealthPoint has felt this truly global pandemic among our patients, staff and across all of our operations right here in King County. Primary care visits are down nationwide and locally as this COVID-19 crisis keeps people away from seeking care they would otherwise have sought. Though our Q1 service units meet contract targets, visits are down when contrasted with Q1 2019. Across the share1app cities of North and East King County overall, Q1 2020 visits were 85% of visit levels in Q1 2019. Among the share1app cities of South King County, Q1 2020 visits were 81% of their Q1 2019 levels. Q1 2020 visits from residents in specific cities were as high as 95% of Q1 2019 levels for Redmond and Covington, but as low as 64% and 49% of Q1 2019 levels for Kenmore and Burien, respectively. Whether this trend will continue into Q2 and beyond remains to be seen.

To address the need to provide care while heeding the guidance/requirements for social distancing, HealthPoint rapidly deployed telephone visits, followed by telehealth/video visits. In addition, we have implemented flows at our clinics to separate patients with respiratory symptoms from those with non-respiratory symptoms. Furthermore, we have implemented testing at several of our sites: Auburn, Bothell, Kent, Midway, Renton, and Tukwila. Testing is done in tents outside of the clinic space so as to minimize the spread of SARS-CoV2. As of the last week of Q1, nearly 400 patients were tested for COVID-19. Of these, about 16% of tests were positive. HealthPoint has implemented flows for notifying patients of test results and, most importantly, next steps for treatment and monitoring. Through all of this, we have had to conserve personal protective equipment (e.g., masks, gloves) which is in short supply. We have also had to contend with requiring our staff to work from home if they are able to comply with government orders and recommendations. However, HealthPoint's clinic personnel are essential and often the first contact for patients who may present with symptoms. They remain at our sites providing treatment, but we continually montior our workforce for symptoms and impacts related to COVID-19.

NARRATIVE

To let you know I'm writing this at 5:20pm on April 15th should about tell you what this quarter has been like! If only it were January again! Numbers were were doing OK until about the 10th of March. Then the numbers got bigger the days got longer and the regular volunteers got fewer. We have tweeked our distribution system as you both know and It does seem to be working it just takes longer to serve our clients plus 90% of our volunteers are new hear and with social distancing we can't put as many clients in the building at once. Overall we are coping OK, our food supply is OK and the public has really responded well with support both financially and with volunteers. I've had scouts, Americorps students and a number of folks from the community step up to cover basis. The initial hit at first saw the food supply from our local stores dry up by 75 %, but we seem to be back to normal now and even more in some cases. It has been a lot more stressful as I'm pretty much handling all the check in of clients now with my regular computer folks being retired folks ho are choosing to stay home. We have seen a lot of out of area folks showing up and as usual we serve them one time and then refer them to their local food bank. Because we ask our clients to sign up on a daily basis on a check in sheet now I have a record of signatures which on of my regular check in people has been making an alphabetical list for me to keep with me at the front door. That has helped. Also because of the virus the cummunity club has not had any activity since March 8th so we have not had to take down and clear out after disribution. 3 of our normal volunteers have been coming in on off days and restocking the distribution line which has helped a lot. We plan on continuing as we have been but if things get worse the board has said that we would shift to a box distribution system. Thank you both for your concern with your calls and email thru this thing. It's great to have the support of both cities. We will all get thru this together!

NARRATIVE

COVID-19

Since mid-February, our focus has been on the safety for our clients, staff, and volunteers. Our COVID-19 approach was led by Public Health. We have participated in Public Health Shelter Provider online trainings, phone-in sessions, and review new information daily.

Initially, just additional hygiene and cleaning recommendations where put into practice. As the situation became more critical, we continued to adapt our plan with things like — social distancing, monitoring temperatures daily, limiting donor/volunteer access to the shelter, and eventually sheltering in place. In order to fully provide a "shelter in place" environment, we hired an additional staff member to cover shifts normally filled by volunteers and times the shelter is closed on weekend days. The staff coverage is made possible through additional funds we received from King County to use specifically for our COVID-19 response.

Our annual Spring Fling Auction fundraiser scheduled for March 7 was cancelled. While this is what we needed to do to keep everyone safe, it was a devastating blow to our budget. We adjusted our plan and converted to an online format. Our online event, 2020 Spring Fling: 4 days of Virtual Giving was held April 2 — April 5. We recorded and shared aspects of the original event alongside auction items. We raised an unprecedented $73,775! (Our goal was $50,000) We are humbled at our community's generosity and know this will help us navigate the future challenges in fundraising this year.

Q1 CLIENT STORY

After being in an abusive marriage for years, Rochelle's Husband left her stranded and alone in California. Rochelle made her way to Washington for a fresh new start but found herself living on the streets in the U-District for 3 months. Homelessness was not the fresh start that Rochelle was looking or hoping for, but stumbling on to information regarding Hospitality House, gave Rochelle a glimmer of hope, that maybe Hospitality House could be the lucky break she needed to reclaim her life and the life she wanted!

When Rochelle arrived at Hospitality House, her main priority was to secure stable housing. From the moment Rochelle walked in, her Case Manager could see that Rochelle was ready to work and use every advantage that Hospitality House had to offer her to better situate her future. Rochelle understood that her hope for stable housing relied heavily on the road map her Case Manager had to get Rochelle there. Together, they got to work immediately and tirelessly to knock down all the hurdles that stood in her way. Rochelle's Case Manager helped Rochelle fine tune and finesse her resume so that Rochelle could confidently start her job-hunting journey. Each week Rochelle received new goals from her Case Manager to apply to different housing options that fit her personal needs. Rochelle's Case Manager loaded her up with lots of goal work — personal, professional, educational and medical — and Rochelle never failed to complete it all, coming back the following week asking for more. For five weeks Rochelle worked rigorously to make sure she had done everything she could to put herself on the best trajectory possible.

In the 6th week, Rochelle got the phone call from a program for Transitional Housing that she had been accepted into their program! Rochelle was ecstatic that everything for which she had worked so hard had finally fallen into place and in her favor. In few short weeks she had found a support group community, applied to grad school, and rediscovered an inner confidence and determination that she now knows was always there – but just needed the time and space to tend to it, nurture it, and wait for it all to come to fruition. Which it did.

There is nothing quite like witnessing the satisfaction and pride of our Residents when they have worked incredibly hard to successfully transition on to bigger and better things beyond us. This is our hope for each of our Residents, that their success does not end with us but is just the beginning. We are confident that this is the case with Rochelle, and we are so proud to say that we were a part of her journey.

NARRATIVE

This quarter got off to a slower start, with our first day cancelled due to snow precautions. It's always difficult to know what new students would have come on the first day, as it was advertised in our flyers, since they register on their first day in class and so we had no way to contact them to let them know our first day was being postponed. With that in mind, we jumped in as soon as we could and focused our first few weeks on health-related topics: body parts, following doctor's instructions, making an appointment over the phone, describing symptoms, etc. We then got to use our health-related vocabulary to talk about the 2020 Census. Most students didn't know what the census was or why it was important. We spent the next few weeks working with materials produced by the Census Bureau for education around the topic and ended by the students producing a poster explaining various aspects of the census in English and in their first languages. One student came up to me after class one day and said that she'd been in this country for over 20 years and never participated in the census because she was scared of immigration repercussions, didn't realize that it was even an option for non-citizens, and had no idea how many aspects of her life were directly affected by the results of the census. She said that she was going to tell all her friends about it and that she was so excited to participate in the census this year. Another student who joined us in the fall of 2018, with zero English and no schooling in her home country, got a job this quarter and we got to celebrate with her, as well as be sad that we'd only get to see her one day a week instead of all 3.

In addition to the adult students we served, we were able to provide childcare for 7 children fairly regularly this winter. Offering childcare is a really helpful piece for parents with kids who aren't yet in school and wouldn't be able to attend without finding other means of childcare. For most of these parents, the childcare we offer is the difference between them being able to attend and focus their full attention on class and not As is probably happening with most programs, we had to end early due to the COVID-19 outbreak. This meant that we didn't get to do any post-testing of our students, nor did we get to run a census workshop we were hoping to run once all the invitations for online responses went out. Thankfully, we do have a communication system set up with Remind with most of our regular students and were able to send out a message with a picture of the census invitation and a reminder to students to complete it. We are very excited to be implementing a remote learning program for the spring in response to the continued mandates against group gatherings and look forward to reporting on how that goes.

This first quarter we served close to 300 clients in our Kent and SeaTac mental health counseling offices. Arabic, Russian, Ukrainian, and Dari/Pashto are the primary languages spoken. Additional languages include: Tigrinya, Amharic, Somali, Farsi and Swahili. Two-thirds of the clients are female and one-third are male. Most of the clients receive Medicaid and a small percentage of clients are pro-bono. The clients we serve are refugees, immigrants and asylum seekers. The number of asylum seekers asking for services is growing, and clients are being referred within LCSNW programs for wrap-around services. Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder, Major Depressive Disorder and Generalized Anxiety Disorder are the predominant diagnoses. Common Elements Treatment Approach, Dialectical Behavior Therapy, Solution-Focused Therapy, Client-Centered Therapy, and other theories and tools are utilized to best support the clients.

Following the Governor's "Stay Home Stay Healthy" emergency order, all LCSNW staff has been working remotely. LCSNW staff began working remotely prior to the order out of concern for the health and safety of our staff, clients and their families. The Counselors are meeting with clients utilizing telephonic and telehealth services to clients on an individual basis.

Kent Highlights

Prior to COVID-19, Doctor of Osteopathy candidates were providing health presentations to the Meskhetian Turk and Afghan groups. Following COVID-19, groups for the Russian, Meskhetian Turk, Afghan and Iraqi communities are on-hold.

Auburn Highlights

One of our Auburn residents, who has been struggling with depression, reported improved mood and sleep this quarter. Engagement with individual therapy and group support, behavior activation in the form of

The first quarter Jan- March 2020

Due to Covid-19 and Governor Inslee's Stay Home Stay Healthy order, the LCSNW Refugees NW Community Programs January – March 2020 activities were cut short.

Our activities in the quarter included:

Outreach – 254 individual received United Way Tax Preparation services January – March 4th. Tax Prep had begun and had just started having large numbers of clients when United Way decided to suspend tax preparation for all sites. This was the first program to be suspended at the center. Typically March would have been the busiest month and we would have seen a substantial increase in clients served across Burien, SeaTac, and Tukwila.

Resource and Referral- 706 individuals received community referral information and assistance with basic needs. With the closure of Westside Babies, our main resource for donated items, March 17th was our last day of distributing basic needs items to families. As of March 18th our staff working remotely continue to provide information and referral services by telephone. Clients from all three cities, Burien, SeaTac,Tukwila were still able to be served before COVID-19 shutdowns occurred.

Workshops and classes –ESL classes were offered through January- February, as well as a workshop on Public Safety for Refugee Elders.

For this quarter our greatest challenge was that in person classes and tax preparation were terminated early. Fortunately, we have continued to provide information and referral services through telephone calls. We plan to increase our response to basic needs while at the same time to keep staff and clients safe and healthy.

Client Story

Erica and Josh are an Auburn area household with 6 children, who came to the MSC Emergency Shelter after being kicked out of permanent housing with nowhere to go. Erica had been working a steady job, while Josh stayed at home taking care of the youngest children. MSC's Housing Advocate worked tirelessly with this family in creating a thorough plan with them to address their barriers to permanent housing. Erica and Josh were eventually able to get day care for the children, and Josh was able to obtain employment. With strong recommendation from their Housing Advocate, the family signed up for the Pierce County Housing Lottery and was able to obtain a housing voucher. From there, MSC's Housing Advocate worked with the family on a plan to pay back their debt owed to a previous landlord. MSC was able to support the family by partially paying some of their debt, move-in costs to their new home, and a furniture voucher through Northwest Furniture Bank.

COVID-19 Impact on Programming

Staff have been advised to work remotely and provide support via phone, email, or social media. If staff are comfortable meeting with customers in person, they must follow public health guidelines while doing so. MSC staff are equipped with access to a laptop and phone to navigate working with clients remotely. Staff are frequently checking in with customers to ensure they have up to date information and are continuing to work on their goals despite the roadblock in their way. Staff continue to motivate and provide encouragement to their customers. Through King County's Covid Homeless Response, all programs have been able to access cleaning supplies such as wipes and sanitizer to provide to our customers. MSC has also purchased additional cleaning supplies to encourage customers to maintain the sanitary conditions of their respective unit.

During first quarter 2020 Navos Child and Family Therapists delivered mental health services to 3 youth in the Sea-tac community. These youth received services to address symptoms of trauma, depression, anxiety and symptoms of attention deficit hyperactivity disorder. Therapists work not only with the youth but also provide case management services (e.g., housing, food, basic needs.) The goal is for the youth to be able to continue to attend school and thrive socially and emotionally. Many of the youth served have significant life stressors (e.g., homelessness, caregiver drug use, lack of supervision in the home, history of sexual and physical abuse.) It is important to note that these youth would not be receiving these services if it were not for the SeaTac grant that helps to subsidize the cost of providing these services.

General Update for ALL CITIES: As an agency, we began closing our offices on March 16th, 2020 as a precaution against the COVID-19 pandemic. It was one of the most difficult decision we had to make knowing that our constituents needed us the most during this difficult time and instead of being there in person to support them, we had to be out of sight. Remote working was challenging in the beginning as PIE's staff and clients adapt to working with each others through phone communication mainly. Over time, it became less challenging, although certain aspects still remains difficult such as obtaining client signatures and support documents to process financial support. In response to the pandemic, PIE received some funding from Seattle Foundation and we decided to put forth the majority of it towards client's financial needs during this difficult time. When we began remote working, we received calls from clients seeking three main services: Unemployment application assistance, rental assistance and job search assistance. This became the trend up to now. In addition to providing limited financial resources to workers who've been laid-off or hours reduced, we also partnered with labor unions to identify union jobs that are still in high demand, such as grocery stores, janitorial services and many others. The labor union was able to support our workers to give them priorities to jobs with employers they already had strong relationships with. Since much of our other work had to be shifted, we refocused our efforts now to addressing unemployment insurance, rental assistance and job placements. Our staff has taken rotational phone duties to triage callers and often times having to assure clients that we are here to support them in order to provide some kind of mental health relief during this very tough time.

2020 Q1 Narrative Report | SafeFutures Youth Center

Case Management for the City of Burien

During the months of January, February, and March, Case Manager Tevin Gladney has been working with 8 youth; 7 male and 1 female. He is working with youth who are in between the ages of 15-23. In addition, SafeFutures is serving 21 more Burien youth through its other funding sources.

In response to COVID-19, SafeFutures has closed its center, but is continuing all of its program through remote operation. All case managers are supporting the youth and families remotely. However, in some serious cases, they are making in-person visits (using social distancing practices) to make sure the youth and families are well supported. SafeFutures is also using general operating funds to provide every enrolled youth (29 in Burien) with a $100 gift card as emergency relief.

In the past three months, Tevin has been establishing connections throughout the community letting others know about the services SFYC can provide to youth and families in the community. He has been connecting with local organizations, and school staff members and counselors.

Tevin has been getting more counselors interested in referring their students to his caseload and also curious of what SafeFutures' Burien case management has to offer. They see value in what SFYC is doing because they don't always have the time to give students the support they need and recognize that some need more support outside of what the traditional school system can offer.

A 17-year-old male was enrolled last year in Tevin caseload due to lack of motivation, and social skills. He had previously been working with Maria (SFYC Case Manager). Tevin has helped him work on his resume and guided him toward his goal of becoming a computer science major in college. In addition, Tevin has been forming a relationship with youth's older brother and mother to keep them updated with his development. Maria has been helping Tevin translate and keeping mother informed about this youth's grades in school. He has been maintaining passing grades and improved academic progress.

A 16-year-old male, previously working with Maria (SFYC Case Manager) and had been racially profiled by the police on Ambaum Blvd, has had barriers with his relationship with others that has caused him to hurt emotionally. Tevin has been working with this youth, helped him attain his goals, and has been pushing his youth to aim high. Tevin has been in contact with the youth's counselor and helped the youth with a plan for his last two years of high school retrieving credits Tevin has helped him with his resume and becoming job-ready. The youth applied and got a job with JUMA, but this offer has been postponed due to COVID-19. Tevin has been contacting JUMA to receive updates as soon as it becomes available again, but this is an accomplishment for Jose. and stay on track with school in the meantime.

A 23-year-old male who has been facing barriers with court systems and lack of academic support has been enrolled into Tevin's caseload this year. This youth has been struggling with his actions and emotions. He was previously a foster child but has been struggling to make it on his own. He is currently homeless and couch surfing. He has faced complications with the court system due to his driving records and unpaid tickets due to financial problems. Due to these financial problems, he had dropped out of college but has a desire to return back to school and get his life in order again. Tevin has recently helped this student apply for financial aid and helped to attain information and resources regarding his court situation. Tevin is working with this youth diligently to enroll into Highline College this upcoming quarter with the goal of transferring to Seattle University and majoring in business management.

A 16-year-old female was also enrolled by Tevin after speaking at WELS (Waskowitz Leadership and Service). She has mentioned she is in need of extra support to help her with employment and educational resources to pay for college in the future. Recently, this youth's mother has lost her job due to COVID-19 and Tevin had been helping with guiding her with the process towards unemployment and community resources. Tevin has been helping this youth with job readiness skills and helping her towards her goal of graduating High School and becoming a police agent.

A 17-year-old male met with Tevin as well after speaking at WELS. This youth comes from a low-income single parent household and wants to become more involved with activities to help him socially and professionally. His goal is to attend college and learn about resources to help him learn about business and the real estate industry. Tevin has been helping him get set up with school for the quarter and connecting him to helpful workshops and internships once they are available again.

A 15-year-old male was recently enrolled into Tevin's caseload. This youth was referred by Karisa Morikawa from the Choose180 program. This youth attends New Start High School and has faced charges recently with King County Juvenile Court. Tevin has been in contact with this youth's mother making sure she has the support she needs and making sure this youth is set up with school. This youth lacks support outside of his mother and has been facing trouble adjusting to the school setting due to misbehavior and disruption in class. Tevin is working with this youth to get him involved with positive prosocial activities, staying out of the court system, and getting on track with high school completion.

A 17-year-old male has recently been enrolled into Tevin's caseload who was referred from a WELS teacher, Michael Steinross. This student is homeless and is in critical need of support services and a mentor. This youth has a lack of support from his parents who have dealt with drug and alcohol problems. Tevin is helping this youth with his tardiness issues and coming up with a plan for him to reach a stable point in his life and become employed.

This quarter with the COVID-19 pandemic, Tevin has faced challenges with his youth trying to keep them motivated outside of school. He has found that it is important to assess the youth that he is working thoroughly in the beginning. Tevin's thorough initial assessment has helped him understand their interests and needs. He has been working on building trust with the youth in order for them to open up and become comfortable with receiving the help that they need. Having solid communication with families and utilizing Spanish speaking coworkers within SFYC has also been helpful because of the cultural differences that are present. This builds trust with families and can enhance progress.

Tevin and SFYC's other case managers are reporting many families who are struggling and still not well resourced during the COVID-19 pandemic. SafeFutures is committed to working with the youth during this period. The funding from the City of Burien has been instrumental in allowing SafeFutures to assign a case manager to focus on building community networks and resources that is specific to and most effective for youth and their families in Burien.

NARRATIVE

It's been a challenging first quarter, navigating the issues surrounding the coronavirus (COVID-19), prioritizing volunteer, staff, and client safety, while continuing to provide Meals on Wheels, an essential service. The majority of our volunteers are 60+ and fall in the higher risk group, as do some of our staff. The 20 community/senior centers our MOW sites are located at have closed to the public but all have continued to allow MOW access and some have offered staff support to fill gaps where volunteers can't make it in. We've also had staff that have needed to fill gaps at sites. We are practicing recommended social distancing and no contact at deliveries where possible. We are receiving a significant number of applications and have one of our assessors assisting with intakes to onboard people and making other staffing adjustments where we can. We've utilized staff from other Sound Generations programs, like Hyde Shuttle, to assist at our warehouse and with site and client deliveries.

We finalized our new menu with an April 1st start date. Our program is unique, even in comparison to other Meals on Wheels programs, as we offer choice and we have quite a large selection. We wanted to further diversify our menu in an effort to make it more culturally relevant and respond to participant feedback. Our new menu includes a new Curried Lentil Stew, Chicken Stir Fry, Chicken Fried Rice, Braised Beef Tips, Vegan Southwest Hash, Vegan Vegetable Stew, and Vegan Burger with Coconut Curry. We offer a total of 29 meal selections on our main menu. Our Halal menu was updated with a Fish Burger and Turkey Casserole for greater variety, for a total of 7 Halal meals. Our Kosher meal remains the same, with 7 meal selections. Our Registered Dietician/Nutrition Manager has received several inquiries from participants and referrals to review the best options based on their dietary needs. Copies of our new menus can be viewed on our website; www.soundgenerations.org.

Our In-Home Assessors shared some feedback they received from MOW participants; One participant, who lives alone, has severe heart issues, and reported being tired all of the time, stated; "It's a Godsend. It's a lifesaver. Everyone I talk to is just as pice!" Another participant soid "Nice people visit to deliver the food. They always have a kind word and ask Overall, in the first 2 months of the quarter we were able to fill 95% of our rides. On the Eastside including Bellevue, Kirkland, Redmond, Sammamish and Issaquah we filled 96% of rides. In Bothell, Kenmore and Shoreline Lake Forest Park area, we filled 95% of rides. In South King County (Renton, Kent, Auburn, Burien, Des Moines, Tukwila, SeaTac, Federal Way and Covington) we filled 94% of rides. The only dip in performance was on the week of January 13th, when multiple snow days and poor road conditions led to approximately 100 cancelled rides (approximately half the scheduled rides). Despite the snow, we increased the percentage of rides we were able to fill from 93% in December to 95% in January/February. We were able to fill 100% of on-time ride requests in Bellevue, Enumclaw, Des Moines, Issaquah, Kirkland, Redmond, Queen Anne, Mercer Island, Renton, Tukwila, and SeaTac. The 5% of requests we were unable to fill were primarily for clients who had difficult requests. These difficult requests include rides where the client is crossing county lines, rides where the client needs to bring a wheelchair, and rides that take place in the early morning. Uber continues to help us reduce the number of rides we have to deny our clients each month.

Volunteer Transportation has been significantly impacted by COVID-19 in March. Our numbers are lower in March than they were in January and February due to an overwhelming cancellation rate as a result of the coronavirus outbreak. Many clients are choosing not to go to their appointments or are doing telephone or online appointments. Many medical offices have closed or are limiting the number of patients they see. As such, we have had 434 rides cancelled by clients, more than in any previously recorded month. In the first week in March, we completed approximately 300 one-way trips. In the last week of March, we completed only 60, as cancellations increased dramatically. Additionally, many of our volunteers are unavailable, as they have had to take a break from driving, in order to protect themselves from the virus. Less than 20% of our volunteers are still driving clients at this time. However, we still have been able to fill the vast majority of rides. In March, we filled 91% of on-time ride requests, down slightly from 95% in February. We expect service level to continue to be low, until medical offices are reopened. At that point, we expect to see a large surge in ride requests, as many of the rides that were cancelled in March have been postponed to a later date. We have been communicating with our volunteers and sharing resources to help them guide in this environment where their service is even more crucial. VTS is working with the City of Kirkland to drop off food bags from Hopelink and groceries to their residents. So far we have recruited 37 volunteer drivers for that project. Hyde Shuttles, our another Transportation program, switched from delivering riders to nutrition destinations to delivering hot meals and groceries to the homebound. Points of origin for meals included the Auburn Senior Center, Sno-Valley Senior Center, Des Moines Senior Center, Renton Senior Center and Shoreline Senior Center.

Our Volunteer Recruitment and Outreach Coordinator has recruited 11 new volunteer drivers from Ballard, Shoreline, Renton and Kirkland. The drivers were recruited through Volunteer Match, a local library and internet search. We focused on volunteer recruitment in Burien, Des Moines, Auburn, Renton, Bellevue, and Shoreline. Also did lunch information tables at the Auburn Senior Center and SeaTac Senior Center. The Coordinator went to the Auburn library for a tabling event during their TED Talks series, the Shoreline library and Burien library. She also attended a Martin Luther King Jr Health Fair in Factoria and a service provider meeting in Renton.

Client Stories/Testimonies:

Wyllis is a 78-year-old lady living in Kent. She has vision problems and relies on us to get to her medical appointments. Due to a shortage of volunteers in south King County, we have from time to time asked her if she would be okay using Uber. She was familiar with Uber as she has gone with her daughter previously using that mode of transportation. As a result, she felt comfortable giving it a try through Volunteer Transportation. It was easy for her because we did all the ride coordination and all she had to do was let us know when she was finished. She has been impressed with the drivers and thought the ones she had were excellent. She enjoyed the conversations she had with them during the ride. She feels safe and appreciates the politeness they have shown, the driver's knowledge of where they are going, and the fact she has only had to wait about three minutes when she calls for her return trip home.

Quarterly Driver Talk (formerly called Coffee, Cookies and Conversation or CCC) was not held in March due to the coronavirus outbreak and consequent Stay Home, Stay Healthy order from the Governor.

Due to Monique Schreiber's departure, the new VTS Director is Suma Mondal who also manages the Community Dining Program.

Current status:

Cancellation numbers are starting to decrease and should continue to do so until medical offices reopen, as there are fewer future rides on our books. Ride total has probably bottomed out, as the 20-30 rides we are doing each week are high priority medical appointments that require in person visits (such as anti-coagulation checks, shots for macular degeneration, etc.). I expect us to continue to do about that many rides weekly, until medical offices reopen, at which point I predict we will see a huge surge in requests, as many of our clients have postponed their appointments.
